A RUMORED RAILROAD DEAL.

The Norfolk and Western Unable to Haul the Freight-A Johnson City Tragedy. [Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.]

(Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.)

Buston, Tenn., September 4.—It is rumored here to-night that another deal has been made in railroad circles, in which the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia and the Norfolk and Western are the participants. Mention was made several days ago that the Cumberland Gap dispatch had been organized which composed aline of road between St. Louis and the Atlantic Ocean, and that the purpose was to push freight rapidly from the East to the West. This traffic has become so heavy that it seems to be all but impossible for the Norfolk and Western to carry it over the Cluich Valley division, it being a new road. Last night the East Tennessee road landed ninety-eight car-loads of time freight at this depot.

this depot.

It was reported some time ago that the Norfolk and Western had made a contract with the Southern Atlantic and Ohio to haut this treight, but these people have not the rolling stock, nor is the road in Last might the officer arrested him at Morristown and brought him to the scene of the murder. This morning he sent word to the dying woman that he wanted to see her. This request her mother flatly remissed. As soon as he heard it he drew his knife cut and cut his throat from ear to car. At this writing he is alive, but it is thought he will die. The woman will not live until te-morrow, it is thought. It will be well for Hickey, perhaps, if he never Yesterday "Old Man Burroughs," as he is generally known, married three Virginia ransway couples on the railroad in the eastern suburb of the city. For the first time since the venerable man has been doing such an enormous business one of the grooms beat him out of his regular fee. This makes 120 couples he has married since he came here—a little more than a year ago. So it seems the better practice comes with more experience. He is a great man when it comes to type 'em. of Christ. Many hearts were made to rejoice in the hope of their acceptance with God, and many Christians built up and strengthened.

While sitting in the congregation I was struck with the fact that of the five preachers present three of them were ordained and sent out from Bruington church. One was the son of another preacher ordained and sent out from Bruington and the other was the grandson of a former pastor of Bruington church. This speaks well for the faithfulness of both pastors and people in that longestablished and justly-esteemed church. Mattaponi has had a record in Christian work which is much to her praise. She, too, has sent out a number of young men who have been and are still doing valuable work in God's service.

The house is an old Colonial building which, after the decime of Episcopalianism in the county, was rescued from utter destruction by the Eaptists, and as it was abandoned property they took the proper steps to secure it, repaired it, and have made it one of the best and handsomest churches in the county. The first pastor was Elder William Todd, who continued to preach for the church for fifty-one or fifty-two years without remuneration. The only yearly compensation that he received was 83 from a wealthy lady from COLONIAL BUILDING.

(Special telegram to the Dispatch.)

Roanore, Va., September 7.—About 3:30 o'clock this afternoon T. A. Keller, barkeeper at W. G. Baughman's saloon, on Salem avenue, met with a terrible accident. He was on his way to his place of business from the pic-nic and attempted to get on the Vinton dummy cars to ride to the centre of the city. In doing so he struck against a telephone-pole near by and was thrown under the cars, all of which passed over him, mashing his thigh near the body into a jelly and otherwise injuring him about the head and left side. He was taken into the office of the Virginia Brewing Company, just opposite the scene of the accident, and everything possible done for him, but there is not the slightest chance for his recovery, and his death is momentarily expected. SHOULD BE PRESENT. A motion was made that the absent chairmen be allowed representation by proxy. This met with considerable opposition and was warmly discussed and was finally voted down on the ground that if chairmen did not take sufficient interest in the affairs of the party to be present and represent their section that no proxies should be allowed.

Newport News was fixed upon as the place and the 28th instant as the time for holding the convention to nominate a candidate of the Democratic party both for the Senate and the House.

THE BASIS.

The following on motion Dr. John H. Crafford, was fixed upon as the basis of representation: One delegate for every fifty voices and fraction thereof over twenty the new formula for the control of the con wenty-five cast for Mckinney for Gov PERSONAL.

Professor George F. Merrell, of Richmond, is here, the guest of President Tyler, College Lawn.
Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Lane, Sr., with Mr. James Christian left this evening for Baltimore to remain until Saturday.

A YACHT STOLEN.

Information reached here this morning that the White Wings, belonging to the yacht club, had been stolen from her anchorage off King-Mill whart, James river, where she had been kept by the club. Several suspicious characters have lately been seen in that neighborhood, and it is supposed the boat was carried off by them No trace of the missing boat has yet been found.

a convention to nominate a candidate to represent Patrick in the next House of Delegates will be held at Stuart on the 18th day of this month.
The Democrats of each precinct will meet on Saturday, the 19th day of September, to elect delegates and alternates to the convention. One delegate and one alternate for every ten voters or fraction over five cast for McKinney will be allowed. There is no scramble among the various aspirants for legislative honors, but each one is willing to submit his claim to the convention and to support the strongest man.

CROPS INJURED.

The continuous rains have injured the crops, especially the tobacco. The corn is about made, and the yield will be good. The Methodists have begun to renovate their church at Stuart, and when completed it will rival many of those in larger towns.

Stuart Normal College has a goodly number of students, and the prospect is that its enrolment will reach three hundred this session.
